Visit our website at www.tpuuf.org/
We are continuously updating and adding information to this website so check back often.

You can also sign up to receive our webvine announcements – we currently have four electronic mailing lists and one community bulletin board:

- our main webvine (in-house news);
- our social action hotlist (for timely information on social justice issues);
- the Arts & Culture hotlist (for activities that are happening in our broader community);
- our “good vibrations” webvine for sending out joys & sorrows; and
- the community bulletin board for general announcements, conversational topics, news, etc.

Contact us at communications@tpuuf.org and request that you be added to one or all of our web vines. Through these lists we keep members and friends informed of our ongoing activities and invite you to join us!

MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of the Communications Committee of the Thomas Paine Unitarian Universalist Fellowship is to facilitate communication inside our community, to assist in spreading our message to the world outside of TPUUF, and to preserve and document our history for the future.

COMMUNICATION COMMITTEE

COMMUNICATIONS COMMITTEE

WHO WE ARE:

We are a small but committed group of volunteers who work to provide our members and friends with access to information in a variety of ways in order to promote and facilitate easy and effective communication at our Fellowship. We proactively work to improve communications and we also problem solve communication-related issues at our Fellowship.

WHAT WE DO:

- Web site (www.tpuuf.org)
- Beacon newsletter
- Congregation Archives
- Manage/oversee email distribution lists
- Work to create a cohesive message about who we are
- Get the word out about TPUUF to the larger community through external marketing, press releases, advertising and signage
- Facilitate communication within our community
- Create brochures/pamphlets about TPUUF & various committees

- Maintain the TPUUF library and hallway bulletin boards
- Update telephone audio announcements

WHY THIS COMMITTEE IS IMPORTANT:

Communication is how we know what is going on, where things are happening, who is doing what... it is essential to the day-to-day workings of any organization. It keeps us connected. We strive to keep our community connected and to help people get involved!

HOW TO GET INVOLVED:

- Come to our meetings
- Contact the committee chair at communications@tpuuf.org
- Volunteer to:
 - Moderate the Webvine
 - Help with the Beacon
 - Help with Website
 - Distribute Flyers
 - Write press releases
 - Work on Advertising
 - Spread the word about TPUUF to friends
 - Help out in the library
 - Take photos for the Beacon!
 - Use the email lists to communicate within our community
